

Sponsorship Form

Fed. ID 06-1689284

Contact Information

Name _____ Address _____

Phone _____ City _____

E-mail _____ State _____ Zip _____

SELECT YOUR SPONSORSHIP PACKAGE

Mark the appropriate box and mail with your check to: The Sparks Foundation, PO Box 383, Blue Ball, PA 17506

<input type="checkbox"/> Aristotle $100 ($175 value) Aristotle, the father of logic, is known for his highly detailed observations about nature and the natural world. Send 1 child to a ½ day camp for one week.	<input type="checkbox"/> Archimedes $250 ($295 value) Archimedes is credited with many inventions and discoveries and he has been called the greatest scientist ever! Send 1 child to a full day camp for one week.
<input type="checkbox"/> Kepler $375 ($470 value) Kepler developed three laws of planetary motion. Send 1 child to a ½ day camp for one week Send 1 child to a full day camp for one week	<input type="checkbox"/> Copernicus $500 ($540 value) Copernicus believed the planets revolved around the sun. (heliocentric solar system) Send 1 child to a club (5 sessions/1 per wk) Send 1 child to a ½ day camp for one week Send 1 child to a full day camp for one week
<input type="checkbox"/> Planck $1000 ($1445 value) Max Planck turned the science world upside down with his quantum theory. Sponsor one club with fifteen children (5 sessions/1 per week) Sponsor one school-wide assembly	<input type="checkbox"/> Bohr $2500 ($3000 value) Niels Bohr was the first scientist to apply quantum theory to the structure of the atom. Sponsor twelve classroom visits – three per grade K, 1, 2, 3
<input type="checkbox"/> Newton $5000 ($5645 value) Sir Issac Newton developed the Three Laws of Motion. Sponsor five clubs with fifteen students each Sponsor one school-wide assembly	<input type="checkbox"/> Galileo $7500 ($8375 value) Aristotle, the father of logic, is known for his highly detailed observations about nature and the natural world. Send 1 child to a ½ day camp for one week & Sponsor curriculum development for 1 week of camp
<input type="checkbox"/> Einstein $10,000 ($10,395 value) Einstein discovered the theory of relativity. Sponsor a year long science program in a local school 1 visit per month (8) for grades K, 1, 2, 3, 4, 5 or for 5 classrooms Sponsor one school wide assembly	<input type="checkbox"/> SE Extraordinaire Priceless! Science Explorer Extraordinaire funds future scientists hands on science participation! You choose the sponsorship dollar amount to promote science literacy to kids in your community!